

Amado Herrera- Suarez

January 2, 1986 - December 5, 2023

Amado Antonio Herrera Suarez was born January 2nd 1986 in Bronx NY and at the age of 10 moved to Jacksonville Florida where he lived for the rest of his life. Amado was the baby of the family son of Glauco Herrera and Milagros Suarez and brother to Hania Castillo, Gabriel Herrera and Anthony Ealey. Amado was loved by many for his outgoing personality. During his school years he was named the class clown since he always had his ways and had everyone laughing. Everyone that got the opportunity to meet him and spend any time with him would agree that he loved to have a good time. Amado fathers twin boys whom are now 10 years old Jadiel and Josiah Rosario. We cant forget to mentioning his nieces and nephews whom for him they were his own Kiara Blanco, Bryon Hanley Joanibel Martinez whom he called Chula J and Immanuel Vigil. Something funny is how he seems to always call his grandnephew Abdel Blanco, his great great nephew. Amadito the way everyone called him, was a very well groomed young man who always loved to look fresh and smell good. Amadito was not a big man but even with his small build he insisted in playing body guard protecting everyone. He was very proud of being from New York even though he lived most of his life in Jacksonville Florida. The New Yorks was his favorite baseball team even though he knew no one that played for them. But when it comes to football Jaguars all the way. Amadito was a very mellow type of guy who could binge watch Law and Order SVU with no shame. He was good with his hands getting things fixed around the house a good cook and loved to keep everything nice and clean. Amado leaves all of his previously mentioned loved ones family and friend with all the good memories to cherish. Thank you for everything. You will be missed, but know you are in a better place now. You will always be in our hearts and memories.
