“ Cheryl, who I fondly called Shirley, was a great person, lots of fun to be around and a great friend. Her passing is still unbelievable. She loved her son's and her grandbabies. She had a wonderful singing voice and probably got slightly annoyed at my constant song request. I joked all the time about her love of Melissa McCarthy & Tyler Perry movies and had to beg her to give other movies a try. With some success. This is a terrible loss and I regret not calling her more after I moved. Prayers for all her loved ones near and far. She had a lot that she was looking forward to doing.
