“ Tomorrow will be 2 years since I talked to you. 2 years since my world changed forever, and not for the better! I miss you so much mom. Never thought 2 years ago would be the last time I would talk to you. I was just so happy I was able to get you into the hospital so that I could make sure you were comfortable and not in pain. Never thought it would be the last time for everything. I thought it was going to be like in September where you would make a full recovery. Never in a million years would I have thought it was over. You were and still are my world. If I would have known it was the last time I would talk to you, I would have said so many things to you. Thank you and told you I loved you 1 more time. I would have told the dr, even though you were loopy, to tell you I love you, just to hear your voice one more time. I miss you so damn much. It still doesn't seem real. I just wish you were here. I love you.

Chrissy Broadbent - April 09, 2023 at 12:43 PM

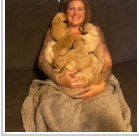

“ They say over time it gets easier. That hasn’t happened yet. I still think about you numerous times a day, everything reminds me of you. I still get calls, emails, mail pretty much everyday. I’m not to the point where I can listen to your voicemails. I just wish I could see you and tell you I love you. Give you a hug. Listen to your laughter, venting over politics, to hear you complain. I wish I would have given you more of my time towards the end of your life. I know it was hard for you to breathe and you were in so much pain at the end. I should have ordered that last meal of food like you asked for. I’m sorry I didn’t know it would be the last time. I love you so much. I should have told you more. Thank you for everything you did for me, working so hard, all the practices and games you took me to, every little thing you did for me. All of it adds up and I feel like I wish have given you more in return.

Chrissy Broadbent - March 30, 2023 at 10:22 AM

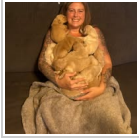

“ Miss and love you forever! 😭

“ Happy Valentine’s Day mom. I love you.

Chrissy Broadbent - February 14, 2023 at 08:11 AM

“ Mom you would be so proud of Jonathan. He’s finally 18 years old, going to college part time and finishing high school. With it being so close to Valentine’s Day, you would be ordering candy because you had a huge sweet tooth. That’s definitely one of the things my kids inherited from you. They could eat it 24/7 if I would let them. I love you and miss you more than ever. One day I will be ready to listen to your voicemails. I’m afraid if I do it now I will just break down.

Chrissy Broadbent - February 10, 2023 at 10:43 AM

“ Every day I get a reminder that you are gone. You have more mail coming to our house than we do. I’m sure you would love to have gotten Trump’s invitation to dinner that we received. Love you Mom

Chrissy Broadbent - January 26, 2023 at 11:20 AM

“ You died today florida time a year ago. It crushed me. I wish I could have told you I love you and good bye. I will always love you and cherish our memories together. You were always there for me. You would be so proud of Jonathan. He will be 18 in a couple of weeks and will be graduating this May.
I remember the call I got from the doctor, I was in such disbelief and shocked. I thought you were going to be okay like last time. I didn’t know that it would be the last time. I just wanted you to live forever. I wish there was a sign you could give me that you are listening.

“ It’s been 1 year to the day since you left me. This was the worst day of my life, and the days leading up to it. Trying to get you help and you being stubborn as ever. Finally on the 11th I was able to get you to the hospital. I know that’s not what you wanted but I wanted you to go peacefully and not in pain.
It feels just like yesterday you left. I would do anything to just have a minute to see your face and to tell you I love you. I say it everyday in my heart but it’s just not the same. My life and this world will never be the same without you. Every day before you passed away, revolves around you. I love you so much mom. I know it’s greedy to say this, but I wish you were still here. I know you are in a much better place and not in pain anymore. But I miss you terribly.

Last Christmas was the last time I was able to send you gifts, talk to you and tell you I love you and say merry Christmas to you. I still haven’t listened to any of your voicemails I have saved.
