

Sharon Lee Zwolinski

March 31, 1959 - December 7, 2025

The family of Sharon Zwolinski, announces her passing on December 7, 2025, after a short and sudden battle with cancer. Born on March 31, 1959, Sharon lived her life in a straightforward, no-nonsense way that those around her knew well.

She is survived by her son, Joshua, and her daughter, Amy, along with her many grandchildren. The family also recently welcomed a new great-grandchild, whom Sharon, sadly, never had the chance to meet. She is further survived by her sisters, Vicky and Michelle, who shared a lifetime of history, arguments, laughs, and everything in between with her.

Sharon will be remembered in the everyday ways she showed up in people's lives-the routines she kept, the opinions she never hesitated to voice, and the memories her family will carry forward. Her illness came quickly, and her absence will be felt deeply.
